

The California Palms Salutes:

The Residence Halls

The fifteen red brick residence halls that stretch the length of the CSDR campus are surrounded by well-equipped playgrounds, athletic fields and large grassy lawns. Each is attractively furnished, has a large living room with covered patio and each is a center for many varied activities.

These activities fall into four main groups: social, recreational, assigned work responsibilities and guidance or counseling. They are planned so that each student will have, while in residence, experiences that will help to prepare him to take his place in society as a responsible adult, one who can "give" as well as "take."

It takes a well qualified staff to carry on such a program and CSDR is fortunate in having a staff of 55 trained counselors working full time under the supervision of three supervising counselors and the dean of students. The activities that they plan for the students are geared to meet their particular needs at any given time and continue from the time a student is admitted until he is graduated.

In order to develop a feeling of individual responsibility within each student, it is felt essential that he be assigned tasks for which he alone is responsible. This starts with the youngest who make their own beds, shine their own shoes and perform other small tasks. The responsibilities of each student increase as he matures so that by the time he reaches High School he may be offered the opportunity to work in one of the two snack bars on campus, or he may be elected to serve on his residence hall council as well as becoming a member of the Student Body Organization where he gains experience in planning, in following through on plans made as well as gaining insight into parliamentary law procedures. A few senior girls meet with groups of junior high girls and discuss such items as grooming, courtesy or dating from an older student's viewpoint.

Weekly guidance meetings are conducted by the counselors for all students from the Elementary School level through High School. These cover a wide range of topics, from dining room etiquette to the responsibilities of marriage.

Other valuable experiences for the students are membership in such organized activities as Scouts, intramural sports, bowling, recreational swimming in the large outdoor pool, picnics, dances and social activities in the club room for High School students from the city schools. All these activities are fun but all are valuable elements in the successful maturation of the individual.

"Now Hear This . . ."

Two key words were used in my welcoming remarks the day school opened. They were two very common words we use almost daily in our society. I refer to Ladies and Gentlemen. Their most common usage is usually in relation to older people or adults; however, on this day I used them in relation to the boys and girls enrolled at this school. Being a lady or a gentleman is not difficult if you put your mind to it. In fact it may be a very pleasant experience, bringing great rewards for your effort.

What is a lady or a gentleman? I often hear the expression used, but never have I heard it defined. To most of us it simply means acceptable behavior, acceptable dress, and the use of acceptable language in the society where we live.

At present I am not interested in the "manners" of Asia, Europe or South America. I am, however, interested in the "manners" of the boys and girls here at the school. The behavior, appearance and general attitudes of our boys and girls reflect the training they receive here and at home. Great emphasis is placed on these areas in our residence halls through proper guidance and counselling. In these areas we need the full cooperation of you, the parents of the children attending this school. Without your help and cooperation we cannot hope to attain the goals and objectives we have set forth.

Not long ago I was pleased to read in a "Letters to the Editor" column, from one of our local newspapers, a letter from a merchant in which he complimented CSDR for having such a fine group of boys and girls. He felt they were a real credit to the community because of their general appearance and attitude while shopping in his store. Reports of this type tend to prove that a good program with support of the home behind it has tremendous carryover, and the end result of our combined efforts pay off in big dividends—Ladies and Gentlemen.

Our Staff

In Junior High School we have fifteen teachers and Miss Thomas, our supervising teacher. We have three new teachers in our department. They are Mr. Dicker, Miss Fremder, and Mrs. McGarry. Mr. Dicker, who teaches social studies, is from Wisconsin. He attended Gallaudet College last year. He replaced Mr. Lennan who is teaching in Elementary School until he enters the Leadership Training Program in January, 1965.

Miss Fremder, who came from Los Angeles, teaches speech and reading. Mrs. McGarry, who teaches reading, moved from Elementary School to our department. We are happy to welcome these teachers to Junior High School.

Judy Goldsberry

Time Schedule

In Junior High School we are very busy. We have eight periods of academic and vocational work. Our classes begin at 8:30 in the morning and end at 3:45 in the afternoon. We have forty-five minute periods. Recess is from 10:00 a.m. to 10:17 a.m. each day. After recess we come back to class and stay until 12:35 when classes dismiss for lunch. We return from lunch at 1:30 for our afternoon classes which end at 3:45. Then we return to our dorms.

Diane Delgrollice

Classes

We have sixteen different classes in the Junior High School. There are from seven to eleven students in each class. Each class is given a different letter. We have classes A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, I, J, K, L, M, N, O and P. Subjects taught in Junior High School are language, reading, social studies, arithmetic, science, health and speech.

Jeanne Buller

Our Rhythm Program

Our rhythm classes are a lot of fun. Most classes go to our rhythm room for a twenty minute period each week. We learn folk dancing, square and round dancing. The students enjoy learning the different kinds of ballroom dancing, too. We learn the Fox Trot, Waltz, Cha-Cha, Swing and Polka. Then we can dance and have fun at our parties.

Carol Tufts

Clubs and Organizations

In Junior High School students have a number of clubs and organizations in which they may participate. We have G.R.C., Girl Scouts and Junior Pepsters for the girls. The boys may join Boy Scouts and football, basketball and track teams. We also have intramural activities among the different dorms. There is always a good competitive spirit in the intramural activities because the students in each dorm want to win.

Mary Ann Rose

Programs and Activities

Every year the Junior High School has different programs and activities to keep the students happy and busy. We have an assembly once a year. It is always something that is meaningful and worthwhile for the students. We invite all of Junior High and High School to the program.

In February we have a big Valentine Party in the social hall. Several days before the party, the teachers and students elect a King and Queen of Hearts. It is always exciting to know who has been chosen.

We have an outdoor party on the football field the last part of the school year. We have competitive games, skits and a picnic supper in the pool area. We enjoy being a part of the different programs and activities in Junior High School.

Lily Miller

The Pep Rally and Bonfire

The night of October 22 was an exciting night for the Junior High School and High School students. We had our pep rally and bonfire. First of all we went to the gym at 7:00 for our pep rally which was led by the cheerleaders and pom pon girls. We stayed about ten or fifteen minutes. Afterwards we all ran outside to the location of the bonfire and waited for the fire to start. Mr. Fauth struck a match and the fire started. A few minutes later, the flames grew bigger and bigger and hotter, too. We moved away from the flames because our faces were getting hot. Our football coaches and players were introduced.

A few minutes later we danced round and round the bonfire. Soon the fire began to die down and it was time for us to go back to our dorms. It was fun and we enjoyed it.

My Autobiography

My name is Bob Allen Ellis. I was born on September 16, 1949 in Santa Monica, California. I am 15 years old. My eyes are hazel and my hair is brown. I have a brother who is deaf. He is a senior at Hollywood High School.

I attended Mary E. Bennett in Los Angeles for seven years. I skipped one grade. After I graduated from Mary E. Bennett, I attended Le Conte in Hollywood for three years. When I graduated from Le Conte, I came to CSDR. I am in Class P in Junior High School and I am happy in my class. I like my new school better than Le Conte. My favorite sports are football, baseball and bowling, but I like all sports. My hobbies are stamp and coin collecting.

I will study harder, so that I can pass college entrance exams.

The Fire Demonstration

On Wednesday, October 21, at 1:30 all the CSDR boys and girls went to watch a fire demonstration in the area near the baseball field. Some of the teachers were interpreters. We learned about Freddie who was a manikin. He played with matches and his clothes caught on fire. The fire chief put a dunce cap on Freddie's head because he played with matches. Senior Class News

The Class of 1965 held its first class meeting of the school year on September 11. Class President Burton Quartermus presided. Other officers are Pat Moran, vice-president, Nancy Burrell, secretary, and Loretta Conti and Dale Ice, treasurers. Class sponsors are Mrs. Steigerwald and Mr. Husak. Mr. Gover, the supervising teacher of the high school, spoke to the class, wishing them success as they begin a busy, eventful year.

The chief business was the selection of the 1965 Scarlet and Gray yearbook staff. Laura Dinndorf was named editor and Mike Nunn, assistant editor. Nancy Burrell is chairman of the class will committee; Pat Moran of the class prophecy committee; and Sharon Russell of the students' activities committee. Jay Shopshire, Ron Scolaro and Connie Davis are the photographic editors. Judy Tamez and Joe Leon are the art editors. The staff is working hard to complete the planning of the yearbook. Several other committees will be formed shortly. Each member of the class and a number of school staff members will contribute in one way or another to this big project. The yearbook is printed in the school's vocational department.

Seniors who ordered class rings last spring received them the first week of school.

The seniors' individual graduation pictures will be taken on October 27.

A Report from the Class of 1966

The Class of 1966 held its first meeting on April 7, 1964. Miss Kubotsu is the sponsor of this class. We held an election to select the following officers: Jack Lambertson, president; Kathy Russell, vice-president; Janet Quane, secretary; Keith Gamache, boys' treasurer and Judith Joiner, girls' treasurer.

We discussed our responsibilities for selling candy, the Junior-Senior prom, and ways of earning money to meet our class expenses. We will sell concessions at Riverside City College. Selling concessions at U.C.R. has been added to our work. Some students helped with the Kiwanis Barbecue Turkey Dinner at Fairmont Park on Thursday, September 24.

We, the members of the Class of 1966, will do our best to make our last two years worthwhile and enjoyable.

Registration and Election

High school students Harvey Bradley, Rodney Nunn, Connie Paine and Juddie Joiner were in charge of the Central Planning Committee for Registration and Election Day.

We discussed with Miss Smallwood, our election chairman, the planning of the election. We chose five classes to be deputy registrars on October 20 which was our Registration Day. Registration blanks were given to each student to fill out.

The voters' stubs were given to the deputy registrars for the eligible voters' list.

The students kept the original affidavit of registration for their own future reference.

Prior to Registration Day the teachers gave their homeroom classes vocabulary work that was connected with registration and election.

On November 2 there was an Election Rally in the Social Hall. Some students gave speeches in favor of their political candidates. We had some good and exciting arguments on this subject.

On Election Day, November 3, there was a mock election. In the high school area we had polling booths set up. The students had to check with the deputy registrars first to see if they might vote. The record book showed if they had registered. One class at a time came to the polls to vote.

Winning a Contest

In the spring I entered an essay contest on "What Makes a Good Leader." It was sponsored by the Jr. National Association of the Deaf. I was thrilled when I heard that I won second place. My prize was fifteen dollars. It was a good experience and I hope to enter more contests. This was my essay:

"What Makes a Leader"

There are many ingredients that go together to make a good leader, just like there are many kinds of leaders. Some leaders, the good guys, we all like. However, there are other kinds of leaders, the ones who lead others into doing wrong things in their society. I think that whatever makes a good leader must be common in all leaders who are successful in having people help them and follow them to accomplish some idea.

The three ingredients that I think are most important and in common with all good leaders are: self-confidence, courage, and understanding.

Self-confidence: As we look in the dictionary for the definition of self-confidence we find it means to believe in one's own abilities. A good leader must get people to react efficiently, working together in a spirit of cooperativeness. He must be able to stand up and go to the front of a group to present his ideas. Along with this he must have maturity, reliability, and common sense.

Courage: He must have courage to stand up for what he believes is right under great pressure from friends and enemies alike. He must, however, be able to admit any mistake that he is responsible for. He must be able to face the discouragement and oppositions of the people who have different views from his own.

And understanding: He must be able to consider the needs and wants of other people. A leader must be fair with all and be considerate of other people's feelings. He must be alert. He must know the rules and follow them, understand his job well, make positive decisions and carry them out smoothly and with confidence.

Such ingredients make a good leader and he is one who gains the support of his organization or his team behind him, who is industrious, has perseverance, and sets good examples to other people.

Swimming

I would like to go swimming every day. I am happy when we have it in P.E. because then we have more fun. I am so interested in improving my swim stroke that I try to practice it every day during the summer.

Linda Briones

Bowling

My favorite sport is bowling because it is fun and I have lots of exercise, too. I like to bowl in different bowling alleys. I started to bowl when I was eight years old. I bowl on a league team in summer as well as fall, winter, and spring.

Toni Deming

My Favorite Sports

I like volleyball best of all. I enjoy playing either in the gym or in the field. I like it because it makes me feel peppy. I am a good player because I have practiced for many years.

Rosemary Piazza

Sports

My favorite sports are tennis, volleyball, swimming, and water skiing. I love them all because they are just great.

I especially like to play volleyball because it is good for my body to exercise, and also, because I like to have fun with the other students. I learned how to play volleyball at Birmingham High School a few years ago. My gym teachers persuaded the other girls and me to try it. I learned to like it very much.

Bonney Brown

Baseball

Baseball is my favorite sport. Baseball is a game played with a ball and bat by two opposing teams on a field with four bases forming a diamond. I played short-stop with Calexica Union High School baseball team last year. My batting average is .260. I have played baseball for seven years.

In the future I may become the only deaf player in the Major League baseball.

George Sierra

Volleyball

My favorite sport is volleyball. I like to play it in the gym because it is more fun than other sports. Teachers in other schools taught me how to play many years ago, so that I now know how to play it.

Sue Farber

Favorite Sports

My favorite sports are basketball and surfing. I like basketball as much as the boys do because it make me active. I like it better than any other team sport. I also like to ride a surfboard on the ocean. I know how to ride it because my friend Harry taught me two years ago.

Sherry Hudson

Baseball

Baseball is my favorite sport. I like to play with my deaf cousin. I enjoy baseball because it makes me feel peppy. I love to make hits, especially homers. I was about nine years old when I first learned to play baseball.

Franklin Johnson

Aloha

I came to CSDR from Hawaii, where I was a student at the Leilehua High School for three years. My parents and I traveled by ship. The name of the ship was the Mariposa. It was a medium size ship. It took five days to cross the Pacific Ocean.

The day after we arrived in San Francisco we flew to New York by jet to see my brother graduate from West Point. It was a wonderful sight to see.

Paul Brennan

An Operation

When I was 10 years old, I fell down and hurt my nose and chin. Last summer I had trouble with my nose. On July 16 I went to the hospital. The doctor operated on my nose and chin. My chin hurt more than my nose. The nurse gave me twelve shots in my hip. At first I couldn't eat because my mouth hurt. Four days later I went home. I was careful and rested a lot. I went back to the doctor two weeks later. He pulled the bandaids off my face. The nurse let me look in a mirror. My face was bruised. The doctor told me to put warm water on my face every day. Now I feel fine. I am happy the operation was a success.

Random Notes

Another school year is in full swing. It is good to hear that almost everyone is happy to be back.

To the new students, we extend a hearty welcome. A short biographical sketch of each has been written by Juddie Joiner and Howard Sultan.

Paul Brennan is 19 years old and he comes to us from Leilehua High School in Hawaii. He is fond of swimming.

Treasure Chest

The homemaking classes are starting the year studying about the home and how we can make it more liveable and fun. The girls are working on a series of projects which include making wall hangings, drapes, new drawer linings, and refinishing an old desk. The most popular project is an old chest type trunk which Miss Meek bought at a used furniture store. It is very old and is made of tin and wood. It was made in England over 50 years ago. The girls have been sanding the old wood and taking the rust off the tin. They will paint it blue, green and black. We hope to use it as a center of interest for our Christmas tea.

Type Lice Club

The meeting was held in the print shop on October 1, 1964, at 7:00 p.m. We chose these new officers: Harvey Bradley, president; Janet Quane, vice-president; Evelyn Brown, treasurer. Then the club voted to invite the following to become members:

Chris Bello, Joe Leon, Leroy Harper, Connie Paine, Gregory Decker, Juddie Joiner, Alice Sargent, Joe Sergi, Rodney Nunn, Tom Parker, David Cisneros and David Simpson.

Mr. Fishler, one of our sponsors, discussed having a field trip to the Los Angeles Times and the Pacific Press Co. In March we may go tobogganing.

The meeting was adjourned at 8:34 p.m.

Power Sewing

The power sewing class started with beginners learning the elementary basic stitches. They are doing simple work on projects for the Community Hospital. Advanced students started with basic measurements and the altering of patterns. They are given a background in good design by learning about colors and the importance of understanding proportion, balance, harmony and emphasis.

Students are also planning to make projects for Christmas gifts including aprons, pillow cases, shoe bags and stuffed animals.

TITLE: Snipp, Snapp, Snurr Learn to Swim
AUTHOR: Maj. Lindman

One morning Snipp, Snapp, and Snurr's mother and father went on a long trip.

Snipp found a fish in a fishing net.

Later Snipp and Snapp found a big green tub that floated on the water. They pushed it into a lake. Snipp stood up and shouted, "I am a brave captain." Soon a strong wind pushed the boat into deep water.

Snurr ran to Nancy. Nancy saw the boat far away. Snurr ran as fast as he could to Nick. Nick got into the big brown boat with Snurr. They went faster than the green tub. Nick took all of them ashore. Nick taught the three boys to swim.

The next day Snipp and Snurr and Snapp went swimming in the deep water and then returned to shore. They all went to the swimming races. Snipp went ashore first and next came Snurr and then Snapp. A man gave the three boys hats. They were delighted.

TITLE: The Major and His Camels
AUTHOR: Miriam E. Mason

A major bought a herd of thirty camels in the desert country and brought them to America. On the way to America a baby camel was born. The major called it Tibboo Funnyface.

After they reached America and were on their way to California, the major was captured by some Indians. When the camels came, the Indians were afraid and ran away.

Later the major found a wife who was wealthy. He was very happy.

I liked it. It was interesting.

TITLE: Young Reader's Book of Presidents
AUTHOR: Phoebe Wilson

This book is about presidents. It tells who was the first president; when he became president; when he died; and what happened to him when he was president. This story tells when a president was born; in what state he was born; what he had been doing before he became president; and to which party he belonged—Democrat or Republican.

This book ends by telling about the late President Kennedy who died on November 22. He was the youngest president ever elected—43 years old.

I enjoyed this book and I felt sad when I read about Kennedy. I was surprised when I read in the newspaper that the same things happened to Lincoln and Kennedy. The book is very interesting and I am sure someone else would enjoy reading it.

TITLE: Albert Einstein
AUTHOR: Mae Blacker Freeman

When Albert Einstein was a little boy, he seemed slow-witted and his parents were worried about him and his future, though they loved him dearly. He had a lot of trouble in school because he didn't answer questions quickly. His teachers and classmates were impatient with him for his slowness.

His parents had to move to Italy and left him in school until he could get a diploma, but that did not work out because of his slowness and struggles in school.

Albert went to Italy and realized that he had to go to school because he had no ambition about his future at all except to study, read, dream, and think deep thoughts. He didn't have enough time to do this, so he wanted to go to the University. He didn't have enough money, but the professor of this school accepted him and later Einstein finally found a job as a patent clerk.

Later Einstein became an eccentric young professor. He was really a very intelligent man with a very high I.Q. He invented many things and taught other professors about science and math. He became a well-known person and traveled in many states and countries, making speeches about his Theory of Relativity, which many scientists were curious to know about. Only a few people understand this theory.

During World War II, Einstein wrote a letter to the President about the Atomic Age. He feared that Germany would go ahead with work on an atomic weapon before the U.S. His ideas were very important to the Atomic Age.

Some of the Palomar I boys had interesting trips during the summer and others worked. Lee Bradley worked as an electronic assembler in El Segundo and Jay Shopshire visited family and friends in the east.

Palomar II

The boys of Palomar II held a meeting to consider formation of a student-dormitory council September 22. After a period of discussion the boys decided in favor of a Student Council and elected the following officers:

President: Rodney Nunn

Vice President: Keith Gamache

Secretary-Treasurer: Edwin Coates

The first official action of the Student Council was to present a plan for creating a fund to be used for special events and parties to be held during the school year. After a great deal of discussion the boys decided, unanimously, to give one dollar a month each. Tentative plans call for a special Christmas party and a special dinner at the end of the school year for the boys and their dates (girls, take note). This dinner is to be held off campus at a place designated by the boys. Out of this fund subscriptions to L.A. Times and Herald-Examiner are to be paid also.

Palomar III

Twenty-two boys of Palomar III participate in a Body Building Physical Fitness Program that takes place every Wednesday evening after study period. A progress record will be kept on each boy to show his development. Every twelve weeks the boy's measurements will be taken to see how many points each has gained. Points will be accumulated until next June. At that time, first, second, and third place awards will be presented to the boys with the most points. The whole purpose of the program is to have each boy take pride in his appearance and to gain self-confidence which will help him build his character as he matures.

Tom Green is practicing his swimming diligently each morning. Tom has gained local recognition and is anticipating becoming an Olympics contestant.

The Cover

The cover designs this year will be made up of photos of school activities in keeping with the particular department featured. Our first issue this year features dormitory life, hence the cover photo showing girl students at the entrance to Shasta I. The photo was taken by Mr. Rahmlow. The enlarging, cropping and presswork was done by students of the offset class. The initial palms overlay was done by John Lux in commercial art class.

CSDR Hosts Far West Regional

The last of five IGD Regional track, field, and swimming trials was held at CSDR August 22. Previous meets had been conducted in June at the Eastern, Midwestern, Southern, and Mason-Dixon Regionals. Most of the United States Olympic Team has been selected from these five Olympic trials for competition at Washington, D.C., June 27-July 3, 1965.

Some of the most outstanding deaf athletes of the nation had their first opportunity to compete at CSDR against each other. Art Kruger, IGD Team Director, was greatly pleased with the results.

Berkeley's Don Lyons, well remembered by Cub basketball fans for his outstanding play on the local hardcourt in 1962, walked away with the Outstanding Men's Trophy by winning the 110 and 400 meters hurdles. He tied the existing high hurdles record in the time of 15.8. Team mate Jim Davis was a double winner in the 100 and 200 meter dashes. Ken Peterson took second in the 800 meters run.

Sylvia Littleton, Arizona School for the Deaf, won the Outstanding Women's Trophy by twin wins in the 100 and 400 meters free-style swims. Schoolmates, Patti Brown, Dan Folsom, and Billy Schultz also did well.

Mike Mahoney surprised track buffs by beating a strong field of harriers in the 1500 meters run to win the Special Open Trophy. Mike barely managed to cross the finish line ahead of Idaho's Larry Johnson. Larry lost another heart breaker that afternoon to Vadja Kolombatovic, Burlingame H.S., in the 5000 meter run.

Tom Green and Greg Decker were predicted to provide the day's most exciting swimming event in the 1500 meter free style, but Greg was sidelined with a streptococcus infection and was unable to participate. Tom won the event to clinch a trip to Washington. Greg still has hopes of going on the basis of his reported practice times.

Linda Parker and Patsy Carlsen came in first and second in the women's 800 meter run. Although their time was nothing startling, only one other better time has been registered in the nation. Both girls have an excellent chance to be elected for the Olympic Team.

Keith and Rene Gamache did not fare well August 22 in their respective events, but both have turned in fine previous performances and are considered to be good Team prospects. Keith was reported to be the best broad jumper of the nation in the prep ranks. Rene reported a triple jump of 42'6" while competing in an AAU Meets at MT. San Antonio College a few days previous to the Far West Open.

At least fifteen of the Far West Meet's participants will be selected for the Olympic Team. All persons mentioned previously are near certainties. Nine are either in CSDR or attending RCC. Three are attending Gallaudet College as graduates of CSDR. The names of these eligibles are Dick Ramborger (javelin), David Dobrovech (800 meters), Rene Gamache (triple jump), Bill Ramborger (triple jump, javelin, and high hurdles), Tom Henes (400 meters), and Bob Skedsmo (800 meters).

Proceeds from the Meet of August 22 collected from concessions, program sales, and donations, amounted to $430.41. The money has been placed in a savings account for the Riverside Olympic Fund. This sum is almost enough to meet the needs of one athlete from Riverside. The IGD Committee has announced that $500 is the cost for each person entering the Games. Additional money is sorely needed to cover the cost of sending Riverside's large representation. Any contributions to the Riverside Olympic Fund will be deeply appreciated.

High School Wrestling

"I don't want my boy to be a rassler," is likely to be the vehement and horrified reaction of parents to the boy's request for permission to go out for the school wrestling team. Chalk up another misconception brought on by watching TV!

High school, college, and Olympic wrestling is a fast, clean, comparatively harmless sport and is a far cry from the defensive training of judo and the fake slamming, punching, kicking, gouging of TV wrestling shows. It is a natural body-building sport, with definite rules to prevent injury. Wrestling and swimming are considered two sports that bring most of the body muscles into play. I say "natural" because all children will naturally wrestle and scuffle like young puppies and if they learn to do it in a way that minimizes possible harm, releases excess energy and tends toward systematic body building, then why condemn the sport! I have coached boys who developed from "97-lb. weaklings" into tough, wiry 105-lb. muscle-men well able to hold their own against all comers.

And so, folks, if your boy asks for permission to go out for the school wrestling team, be sure to sign up without a qualm and watch with pride how he will develop.

The 1964 Track Season

The California School for the Deaf track team was again the champion of the Arrow-head League in 1964. It ranked second nationally among schools for the deaf. CSDR was undefeated in six individual meets against 11 other schools. In the "B" classification they fared almost as well, losing only 2 meets against 10 opponents.

Several of the Cubs were particularly outstanding, setting new school and league records. Steve Strange set a new school record of 11'3" in the pole vault. Mike Mahoney ran the mile in 4:34.4 for a new school record. The relay team of Rudy Villa, Jack Long, Burton Quartermus and Jerry Moore set a new record in the 440 relay with a time of in the 70-yard high hurdles with a time of 9.9. Danny Cisneros set a new record in the 660 with a time of 1:30.4.

In the league meet CSDR ran away with all The scores of the league meet are as follows:

2. Boys' Republic	26	2. Boys Republic	36
3. Aquinas	23	3. Twin Pines	34

6. Rim	11	6. Notre Dame	7
7. Ontario		7. Ontario

Other team members who placed first for points were: Jerry Moore, 100 yard dash, 200 yard dash and shot put; Burton Quartermus, 120 yard high hurdles and 180 yard low hurdles; Jay Shopshire, 440 yard dash; David Cisneros, the 880.

Jackie Long, Tom Parker and Greg Wilson were steady performers for the Varsity and Tom Green, Scott Vermilya and Rudy Villa performed well for the "B" team.

In the "B" classification Keith Gamache broke the long jump record with a leap of 21'3". John Wilcox bettered his own record in the 70-yard high hurdles with a time of 9.9, Danny Cisneros set a new record in the 660 with a time of 1:30.4.

Football Forecast

The Cubs of CSDR opened their football season against one of the most powerful teams they will face this season. With 24 candidates out for the team, most of whom are veterans, Coach Lanzi was able to give the strong Webb School team an even battle for most of the first game played by each team. The 28-12 defeat did not really indicate the closeness of the play and the fine performance of the CSDR eleven. With this kind of showing against Webb, our boys should do very well in league play this year.

In the last two years the Cubs have had 4-3 records in league play. This year Coach Lanzi's boys hope to better this record and move up in the league standings. With a fast, hard hitting line averaging 190 lbs. per man, composed of experienced players and last year's standouts, Jerry Moore and David Cisneros backed up by Steve Strange and Keith Gamache in the backfield, our first eleven looks excellent. How the team will fare in league play will depend a great deal on the ability of the substitutes who will relieve the starters. If each player will play up to his individual ability and cooperate fully with his coach and teammates we should have an excellent season. Our schedule is tough and all of the teams seem improved over last year, but at the present time it looks like a good year for CSDR.
